Situation Update

- The food and nutrition security situation continues to deteriorate as the peak of the hunger season which typically runs from May - July approaches. Unless a sustained and comprehensive humanitarian response is mounted, the most vulnerable - who have been weakened by years of conflict will slide into 'famine-like' conditions as was the case in 2017. WFP and partners are working to scale-up food assistance to reach up to 4.8 million people with critical food supplies at the height of the response in June/July.
- Latest findings from the mobile Vulnerability Analysis and Mapping (mVAM) surveys, an initiative of WFP's in collecting, analyzing and presenting food security and related information through use of surveys based on mobile phones indicate that poor food consumption persists in Torit and Juba. Overall, there is high market dependence, particularly in Kapoeta South where all households are dependent on markets for their food needs.
- WFP has suspended activities in Koch and Mayendit, counties due to a deteriorating security situation in most targeted locations. WFP continues to monitor the security situation. Activities will resume when situation improves.

WFP Response

Food and Nutrition Assistance

- WFP has delivered 2,347 mt of food commodities to 130,835 people across six counties, Ayod, Akobo East, Fangak, Mayendit and Panyijaar through the integrated rapid response mechanism (IRRM) in the past two weeks. Some seven IRRM distributions are ongoing targeting 149,000 people including 27,500 children under the age of five.
- WFP rolled-out a cash-for-milling initiative for vulnerable households in Protection of Civilians (PoC) site in Bentiu, targeting 46,000 recipients. Under the initiative, people receive cash to cover for grinding mill costs for the cereal entitlements. The cash replaces the milling voucher modality that they have been receiving as part of the assistance package.

Gender and Protection

- WFP continues to support the formation and effective functioning of project management committees (PMCs) as part of ongoing efforts to strengthen community engagement in both emergency and non-emergency settings. Some 40 participants from WFP and 20 cooperating partners participated in the one-day workshop on 19 April that focused on using project management committees (PMCs) as a mechanism to promote community engagement. The participants were equipped with skills on how to ensure committees are able to facilitate engagement, conflict resolution and communication with WFP and CP as well as using the WFP Complaints and Feedback Mechanism (CFM).

Supply Chain

- As of 27 April, WFP has so far pre-positioned 85,000 mt - equivalent to 60% of the plan - ahead of the main rainy season that usually runs from May to November. WFP's plan was to move 140,000 mt by May but activities were partially delayed due to unavailability of resources in time. WFP is now racing against time to complete the exercise as resources trickle in.
- WFP is importing food through Kenya, Uganda and Sudan. A total 11,229 mt of assorted food commodities are in transit from Kenya to Bor, Juba, Kapoeta, Wau and Wunrok in South Sudan.
- WFP is moving 5,803 mt of assorted commodities from Uganda to Aweil, Bentiu, Bor, Juba, Rumbek and Wunrok in South Sudan.
- Out of the planned tonnage of approximately 28,000 mt of assorted commodities to be delivered in April from Sudan to South Sudan, 14,000 mt has so far been delivered and the remainder will be delivered to Bentiu, Aweil and Renk by end of April.
- WFP delivered 3,900 mt of assorted commodities by air in April bringing the total dispatches since the beginning of the year to 21,977 mt.

Clusters and Common Services

This was the third Logistics Cluster convoy to Jonglei in 2018 to support the humanitarian response in hard-to-reach parts. The eighth Logistics Cluster convoy along the Western Corridor in 2018 departed from Juba on 12 April and arrived in Bentiu on 19 April.
- The Logistics Cluster conducted two trainings on humanitarian logistics on 19-20 April in Bentiu and another one on 25-26 April in Bor for 53 participants from 29 organizations. The trainings are part of the cluster's efforts to foster capacity building of national staff in South Sudan. So far, 175 people of the 300 targeted have been trained.
