1. RATIONALE

- 1. Due to recurring natural hazards (droughts and floods) compounded by the effects of COVID-19, the humanitarian needs of the Honduran population have increased and access to food, water, and income-generating opportunities is scarce. Multiple crises have caused crop, job, and income losses, and material damages, diminishing households' purchasing power. Consequently, households have been forced to use negative coping strategies to access food and resources. On the other hand, the decrease and changes in the seasonality of rainfall, as well as the increase in the intensity of extreme events impact the availability and quality of water resources, ecosystem services, and biodiversity of populations.
- 2. In addition, the economic effects of the Ukraine crisis have augmented the existing challenges in the country, causing an increase in the prices of productive inputs, fuel, and the basic food basket, leading to an impact on the most vulnerable that is characterized by their condition characterized by poverty and low income and crop yields. According to the projections from the latest Integrated Food Security phase classification (IPC), 2.6 million people will be in crisis and emergency from June to August 2022, the period of seasonal hunger.

2. CHANGES

Strategic orientation

- 3. This country strategic plan (CSP) revision does not include any change in the strategic orientation.
- 4. This CSP revision includes an increase of USD 14 million, which will allow WFP to expand its geographical coverage to reach more beneficiaries, as well as further strengthen the capacities of individuals, communities, institutions, and support ecosystems to address the impact of climate change and other shocks while contributing to improving food security and nutrition.

Strategic outcomes

- 5. Considering the current levels of vulnerability in the country due to the effects of climate change, COVID-19, and the Ukraine crisis on livelihoods and food security, WFP aims to increase assistance to support the most vulnerable in the country through activity 4 under strategic outcome (SO) 3.
- 6. Food assistance will be mainly carried out using cash-based transfers (CBT) and commodity vouchers, adapted to the new reality on the ground and will increase its assistance in 22,704 households (113,520 beneficiaries). Risk reduction, climate adaptation and development strategies will strengthen sustainable livelihood resilience and food security and nutrition. There is no variation in the transfer value of these CBT and commodity vouchers aim to meet basic household's food needs, up to 66 percent of the necessary caloric intake.
- 7. It is estimated that 390,000 people (15 percent of the population) in IPC Phase 3 would fall into a more critical situation of food insecurity due to the price increase of the basic food basket, fuel, energy, and other essential needs. Moreso, inflation in Honduras is expected to be 7 percent by the end of 2022, affecting the most vulnerable.

Beneficiary analysis

- 8. An increase of 22,704 households (113,520 beneficiaries) is being considered within this CSP revision. Beneficiaries will be assisted for 100 days, with a daily transfer worth of USD 2.75 per household (USD 0.55 per person), totalling USD 83 per household per month.
- 9. Targeting will be done through the targeting protocol, which uses a standardized questionnaire at the community and household levels. The instrument assesses a series of variables to determine the level of vulnerability within the population.
